

CAPSULE EXHIBITS by BEIT HATFUTSOT

The Museum of the Jewish People at Beit Hatfutsot is launching a new initiative that offers Jewish organizations a selection of curated, ready-made photo exhibits. The exhibits are offered at no cost, with the intention of sharing Beit Hatfutsot's vast collection of over 400,000 black and white images depicting Jewish history, heritage, and communal life across the globe such as the following:

Left: The Feingersch Family vacationing by the sea. Tsingtao, China 1920

Right: Rebecca Sieff, the first president of WIZO in Harper's Bazaar Magazine. England 1935

The Capsule Exhibits offer a unique opportunity to enrich your communal space while engaging your members and visitors. The displays may also serve as launching pads for educational programs and crowd-sourced additions, inviting community members to submit their own family photos or artwork, creating a tapestry of meaningful moments.

You can choose from over fifteen Capsule Exhibits including:

The Jewish Wedding

Simchas – Jews Partying

Fashion

Israeli Jewish Soul Food

Start-up Nation

Jewish Holidays

And More.

Each exhibit will be digitally delivered in the form of high-resolution images, which will then need to be printed and mounted by the partnering venue. The photographs will include text labels, suggested layout and production guidelines. For each exhibit Beit Hatfutsot will offer relevant educational material and suggested community programming.

For more information, please contact:

Enia Zeevi Kupfer, Director of External Relations, Israel and Europe Desks, enia@bh.org.il

Rabbi Talia Avnon-Benveniste, Director, International School of Jewish Peoplehood Studies, talia@bh.org.il

Yaara Litwin, Project Manager & Curator, yaara@bh.org.il